

Casting Search: Pixar Animation Studios

Pixar is casting a voice-over role for an upcoming English-language animated feature.

The character, Papu Emil, is a 70-year-old Romani musician.

Emil is an eccentric and cantankerous Romani grandfather and musician. He's bedridden, but full of spirit, with an intense passion for all things family and music, especially where it pertains to his teenage granddaughter, Lena. Emil might come across as overly direct and opinionated at times, but it all stems from his unwavering support of his granddaughter.

We're looking for actors who:

- Have a confident, yet kind and playful voice
- Feel comfortable acting in English
- Naturally sound like they are in their 70s
- Can authentically portray a Romani character

Emil speaks a few words/lines in Romani. Actors don't need to be fluent, but it's helpful to have some familiarity with the language.

Actors/performers who fit this description and would like to audition for the role, please contact: Pixar-Casting@pixar.com for audition scenes and further information.
